

Academic Thoracic Pathologist University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine

Rank/Title:

Assistant Professor (one to five years' experience) Associate Professor (five to ten years' experience) Non-Tenure/Tenure stream

Department/Division:

The Department of Pathology, University of Pittsburgh, Division of Anatomic Pathology of University of Pittsburgh Medical Center – Presbyterian Hospital is seeking a pathologist, board certified in Anatomic Pathology, with specialty training and academic interest in Thoracic Pathology. UPMC – Presbyterian is the major teaching hospital of the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. It is responsible for 41,000 surgical accessions with a significant mix of medical (native and transplant) and neoplastic pulmonary pathology, and mediastinal pathology; it serves as a local and regional consultation reference laboratory for Western Pennsylvania. In addition to teaching and sign out responsibilities, the candidate would have ample opportunities for translational projects utilizing the state-of-the-art resources of our molecular pathology, FISH, and other laboratories.

Job Duties:

The candidate would be primarily responsible for sign-out of biopsies and resection specimens along with three other thoracic pathologists, on a bench devoted to pulmonary and mediastinal pathology as part of our Center of Excellence model. Involvement in clinicopathologic studies, collaborations with clinician scientists and teaching of residents, fellows, and medical students is essential. Participation in other subspecialty sign outs may be possible based on the candidate's interest.

Qualifications:

- Must have an M.D. and be Board certified in Anatomic Pathology with specialty training and academic interest in thoracic pathology.
- Eligibility for medical licensure in Pennsylvania is required.
- A record of and commitment to scholarly activities and publications
- Must be able to work in the United States

Assistant Professor (1 to 5 years' experience) Associate Professor (5 to 10 years' experience)

Salary and Benefits:

- Salary will be commensurate with experience.
- Full-time faculty member at the University of Pittsburgh as well as a participant in the UPMC/UPP faculty practice plan

To Apply: Go to Talent Center at www.join.pitt.edu and search for requisition number 23005820 in keyword.

Please send an introductory letter, your curriculum vitae, and the names of three references to:

Gabriel Sica, MD PhD
Professor of pathology
Presbyterian Hospital of UPMC
Director, Thoracic Pathology Center of Excellence
Email: sicagl@upmc.edu

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/ Equal Opportunity and values equality of opportunity, human dignity, and diversity, EOE, including disability /vets.